HELP WITH PERSONAL STATEMENT WRITING

For many reasons applicants feel challenged in preparing their personal statements. I have been writing personal statements for applicants to medical, dental, pharmacy, and other professional schools for more than ten years. Each client entrusts us with an awesome task, and we do our best to advocate in their interests. The outcomes are gratifying. Please feel very welcome to call or email to learn more and to discuss your statement questions.

Ten reasons why you may need help:

1. You are having trouble getting started.
2. The thought of your many competitors has caused you to delay, and this has added to your frustration.
3. You have difficulty being objective because your statement is about you.
4. You are inexperienced with the type of writing that captures the reader's imagination and makes an impact.
5. You exhausted your information in completing the application, and starting with a blank page now is daunting.
6. Your first attempt reads like a narrative drawn from the lists in your application.
7. You know what you want to say, but your points don't translate convincingly on paper.
8. You are confident you can be an outstanding professional, but expressing that in several hundred words seems impossible.
9. You have prepared your statement but realize you need to take it to the next level.
10. People who have reviewed your statement suggest that you get help.
